

ABOUT US

Located in the heart of Western Maryland's Appalachian mountains, this historic 131 acre farm, now known as Evergreen Heritage Center (EHC), tells the story of settlement of America from the time it was established during the Revolutionary War. The EHC Foundation, a 501c3 founded in 2008, shares this historical property with thousands of students and visitors annually, as they tour museums, gardens, greenhouses, and more.

WHAT WE OFFER

The EHC offers three award-winning museums filled with antiques and artifacts: the Evergreen Farmhouse, the Evergreen Barn's Agricultural Museum, and the multi-building Evergreen Coal Camp including a 1-mile trail. This property, listed on the National j, tells the story of the past 250 years of farming and living off the land.
